6:30 pm
Thursday, March 2nd
Old Capitol Senate Chamber
Professor Jasper Halekas
Follow the Water: The Scientific Exploration of Mars
From the earliest days of astronomy we have gazed upon Mars asking if it could harbor life. Liquid water is a crucial ingredient for life, and wonder if Mars has or has ever had enough water to support life. Learn the history of the search for water, highlights of modern & ancient scientific observations about Mars.